Name:TimothyDate:12/5/2016 Review: WOW! 10 Comments: I just finished repairing the file of just saved it on my local folder and then saved it into the google drive folder. I just want to say that this was amazing. I have downloaded it a long time ago and haven't used it until recently. I just uploaded the file and it did it in the blink of an eye. I don't know how it can do this but it did. Name:AlbertDate:12/2/2016 Review: Nice App 9.5 Comments: Like its name it actually does do a fine job. Just had a nice run through of a video, only to find that there was a problem. All I needed to do was to add a 'repair' button to the window and it started to find issues. There was an odd .jpeg at the beginning that was no longer required, then the video recovered a lot of frames that were missing and the time was reduced by two minutes. It also recovered frames that had been missing before the repair, which is always nice. It did take a little while to complete, so be patient if the file is too big to repair, but it did manage to repair it in the end. "We had a lot of criteria we went through," he said. "We felt it was in the right location, the right time of year to do the festivals. The last big festival we had that brought people out and seemed to be successful was Catawba Creek in Greenville. We feel that Indian Land will be in a similar category." While officials haven't settled on names for the events yet, an announcement will likely be made in July. The games are expected to be similar to the original and will include around 10,000 fans each. O'Connell said he's heard from many of the folks who helped with the 2006 event who are interested in helping with the new event. "The more people that are involved, the more money we'll have and the bigger the festival will be," he said. During the three-day event, there will be a bicycle race, community art projects and a beer garden in the new park. In past festivals, music concerts have been the centerpieces of the day. "We wanted to have some of that," O'Connell said. "We think it'll be a great festival." O'Connell said O.C. State's quarterback Chaz Beasley and former national power shooting team captain Jordan Geist were two of the biggest names they were able to lure to the event, along with Mecklenburg County sheriff's office's investigator and Charlotte Catholic coach Steve Rainwater. "This year, we were able to bring in two great personalities. We feel they'll put a real spotlight on what Indian Land has to offer and the O.C. State brand," O'Connell said. "We are looking forward to a great event and we 77a5ca646c
